

The Advising Success Network Newsletter | December 2021

In this month's newsletter, we round out 2021 by featuring the network's most accessed resources of the year. As we reflect on the year and look ahead to 2022, the ASN is excited to continue our collective work to more deeply understand the role of people, process, and technology in advancing equitable outcomes for Black, Latinx, Indigenous, Asian, Pacific Islander, and poverty-affected students.

Wherever you sit at the student success table, we invite you to join the ASN as we support holistic advising redesign efforts that transform people, processes, and technologies to create better personal, academic, and professional outcomes for all students regardless of their racial or socioeconomic background. Visit the ASN website to learn more about our mission, approach, and network partners, and join us on Twitter and LinkedIn.

The ASN wants to hear from you! Please let us know about your efforts to support students as they work toward achieving their personal, academic, and career goals.

Top 5 Resources of 2021

Academic Advising: A Tool for Student Success and Educational Equity

This volume of case studies from the National Resource Center for the First-Year Experience and Students in Transition showcases high-impact academic advising initiatives that are designed to advance equitable student success.

Download the case studies

Success Factors for Advising Technology Implementation

What does it take to successfully implement advising technologies? EDUCAUSE, working with SOVA, offers a new institutional readiness assessment tool to support your efforts to find the answer for your campus.

Download the assessment tool

Integrating Career Advising for Equitable Student Success

The American Association of State Colleges and Universities and the Career Leadership Collective share a higher education landscape analysis of career advising integration to advance equitable outcomes.

Download the landscape analysis

(Mis)Understanding Students: Approaches to Affirming Student Identities

From NASPA—Student Affairs Administrators in Higher Education, this report offers resources and questions for institutional leaders to consider to reflect on their unique student population with a more holistic and intersectional lens.

Download the report

Knowing Our Students: Understanding & Designing for Success

From Achieving the Dream, this guidebook is designed for institutional leaders and student success teams who are ready to talk openly about the students they serve and who are eager to learn practical strategies for student-centered design from national experts and peer institutions.

Download the guidebook

Mission

Our mission is to help institutions build a culture of student success, with a focus on Black, Latinx, Indigenous, Asian, and Pacific Islander students, as well as students from low-income backgrounds, by identifying, building, and scaling equitable and holistic advising solutions that support all facets of the student experience.

Vision

Our vision is a higher education landscape that has eliminated race and income as predictors of student success through a reformed approach to advising, in which all students are supported through a seamless, personalized postsecondary experience that creates better personal, academic, and professional outcomes.

NASPA, 111 K Street NE, 10th Floor, Washington, District Of Columbia 20002, (202) 265-7500

Unsubscribe Manage preferences